The Memphis Commercial Appeal describes the wedding as follows:

"The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Mathews was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon, when their daughter, Lola, became the bride of William Raney Ellis. In the spacious hall the stairway was wrenthed in wistaria, while clusters of snowballs ornamented the book cases and tables. Beautiful hanging clusters of wistaria tooned the windows and doorways n the drawing room, where a bower of ferns and Easter Illies in a window alcove marked the place of ceremony. "The bride was gowned for the ceremony in a traveling suit of stone green cloth, with which she wore a green messaline hat adorned with green rib-bons and pink roses, and carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses. The maid of honor, Miss Nettie Eilis, sister
